

Larry Smith is General Manager for Lurvey Landscape Supply's Volo location as well as the head plant purchaser for the company. In my 30 years in our profession, I have been a grower, landscape construction supervisor, landscape plant buyer, nursery sales manager and distribution yard manager. I have taught nursery management at the College of DuPage, as well as numerous seminars on plant materials and plant identification. I have served on the ILCA Education Committee, am a past president of the Ornamental Growers Association of Northern Illinois, a member of the International Plant Propagators Society and am currently the president of the Landscape Distribution Board of the American Nursery and Landscape Association.
